

Abstract

The present invention relates to aqueous compositions used to remove post etch organic and inorganic residue as well polymeric residues and contaminants from 5 semiconductor substrates. The compositions are comprised of a water soluble organic solvent, a sulfonic acid and water.